Feedback comments	—Hi,Overall, your work shows a solid understanding and mostly meets the assignment expectations. The presentation is clear and well-structured, with thoughtful application of concepts and reasonable critical reflection. Academic sources are used appropriately, though some areas could benefit from more depth and polish.Structure and Presentation Your presentation is generally well-organized and mostly clear, with effective use of visuals to complement your oral explanation. Some slides could be refined to reduce text and improve focus, but the overall structure supports the communication of your ideas.Knowledge and Understanding You demonstrate a solid understanding of the design and development process, successfully meeting most of the assignment requirements. Your explanations show technical competence, with some detail on how key concepts are applied.Criticality Comments on your code and design choices include thoughtful reasoning, with some reflection on alternatives and testing outcomes. Justifications for decisions are evident but could be expanded to deepen critical engagement.Use of Relevant Sources Academic sources are appropriately referenced and contribute to your rationale. Citations generally follow the required format, demonstrating an awareness of academic conventions and strengthening your arguments.
